Adam Marshall (20) is a talented young batting all-rounder from Telford, England.

A right-handed middle-order batter, the 20-year-old currently plays for Allscott Heath Cricket Club, after a previous stint with Wellington in recent years.

Also a long standing member of the Cricket Shropshire Disability side, Marshall made his debut for the County back in 2021. The batter also enjoyed a brief stint with Yorkshire County Cricket Club D40 1st XI in 2023.

An organised right-hander, Adam is able to bat for long periods of time and looks to rotate the strike at regular intervals. Also a right-arm medium pacer, the youngster is able to contribute in all three facets of the game.

Fielding wise, due to his prosthetic, Adam is best situated in close to the batter and is often seen at short cover or in the slip corden. Looking to continue his hard-work and push for the England Disability XI, the Telford born all-rounder headed to Australia for the 2024/25 season.

Turning our for WA based side, Rockingham Hornets, Adam thoroughly enjoyed his first season down under; and the Englishman is now looking to return to the Southern Hemisphere ahead of the 2025/26 season.
