Alex Brown is an exceptional top-order batter from Christchurch, New Zealand.

A talented 19-year-old, Brown currently plays Club Cricket for New Zealand powerhouse side, St Albans, in the Christchurch Metro Premier Competition.

Making his Premier debut for his Club in 2022, the batter had previously graduated school cricket averaging 78.42 and racking up three hundreds throughout the 2022/23 season. Throughout the 2023/24 campaign, the youngster racked up 500 runs across all competitions, impressive numbers for someone playing their first full season in Premier Cricket.

Following an impressive run of form, the 'Kiwi' was selected to represent Canterbury U19's in a national tournament, and now has ambitions to continue progressing through the game.

Seeking his first stint in the Northern Hemisphere, Alex is deemed a 'Pathway' player due to his recent Canterbury representative honours, restricting him to Holland & Republic of Ireland options. No doubt a player with plenty to offer, the Kiwi is someone we see progressing even further before arriving at his chosen club.
