Alex Riley-Craig is a young, energetic cricketer and emerging leader who combines his passion for playing with a strong commitment to coaching and club development.

A batter who bowls seam, currently opening the batting for his club, Alex is a positive and proactive run-scorer who looks to set the tone at the top of the order, while also making an impact in the field through his athleticism and enthusiasm.

At just 20 years old, Alex has already taken on substantial responsibility off the field as Junior Head Coach at Codsall CC, where he plays a key role in developing young cricketers. Alongside his coaching duties, he contributes to ground maintenance and leads the club's Sunday Development League, demonstrating his dedication to every aspect of club cricket.

Despite facing disrupted seasons due to work commitments in the United States over the past two years, Alex has returned to the UK to complete his university studies and further develop his coaching qualifications and experience. His ambition extends beyond personal performance, with a strong focus on helping clubs, players, and junior programmes grow and thrive.

A versatile contributor capable of offering value with both bat and ball, Alex is recognised for his work ethic, positivity, and willingness to invest time in the development of others. As he continues to progress as both a player and coach, he is well positioned to make a meaningful impact during the 2027/28 winter period and beyond.

Alex is a dedicated club person whose enthusiasm, leadership, and coaching expertise make him a valuable asset both on the field and within the wider cricketing community.
