Anand Bais is an exceptionally talented top-order batter representing Puducherry across all formats of Indian domestic cricket.

Having previously played for Madhya Pradesh, Bais has become a key performer for Puducherry since his move, featuring alongside experienced campaigners such as former India international Naman Ojha. He has been particularly impactful in List A cricket, where his consistency and attacking intent have stood out.

The Vijay Hazare Trophy has been Bais' most productive tournament to date. Across 28 List A matches, he averages 38.47, underlining his reliability at the top of the order. An explosive batter by nature, he also contributes with useful off-spin, adding further balance to any side.

Bais has been part of the professional cricket system for over a decade. He represented his state with distinction at age-group level, dominating competitions such as the CK Nayudu Trophy and Vinoo Mankad Trophy, before earning selection for the Central Zone in the 2014 Deodhar Trophy.

A consistent run-scorer in white-ball cricket in recent seasons, Bais is now eager to showcase his talent in the UK next summer. Highly regarded within domestic circles and recommended by Ranji Trophy and UK league legend Mahesh Rawat, he represents a high-quality prospect for any club.
