Aryaman Singh is an exciting young Indian cricketer currently enjoying a breakthrough season in the Indian domestic game. A left-arm spin all-rounder and capable middle-order batter, he has quickly made his mark at senior level with performances that underline his quality and potential.

Aryaman developed his game through Punjab's junior cricket system, spending four years in age-group cricket and winning three Under-23 national-level tournaments. His progress was further recognised with selection for the India Under-23 Emerging Camp, reflecting his standing among the country's leading young prospects.

He has recently stepped into professional cricket with Himachal Pradesh, featuring across all three formats. In his maiden Ranji Trophy season, Aryaman has already delivered standout performances, including a five-wicket haul and a half-century in just five matches, an impressive return in one of the strongest domestic competitions in world cricket.

Highly regarded for his control and match awareness, Aryaman is a genuine slow left-arm all-rounder capable of influencing games with both bat and ball. He also comes strongly recommended by fellow countryman and established UK professional Uday Kaul, who believes Aryaman has the tools to excel in English conditions.

With the ideal profile for UK club cricket, Aryaman offers balance, versatility, and competitiveness. A game-winning all-rounder with strong pedigree and hunger to improve, he shapes as an outstanding option for any club seeking a high-quality overseas signing for the coming summer.
