Ben Whitehouse (22), a young quick bowler from Lincolnshire, England.

Regularly clocking speeds between 80-85mph, Whitehouse combines natural in-swing with sharp seam movement off the pitch, making him a formidable challenge for opposition batters.

His passion for the game was nurtured at Bracebridge Heath Cricket Club in the Lincolnshire County Board Premier League, where he has become a key figure in the First XI over recent seasons.

The Englishman relocated to Loughborough for university, where he is pursuing a Master’s degree in Physiology and Nutrition of Sport and Exercise while being an integral part of the Loughborough MCCU Performance Squad. Whitehouse played a key role in the university side’s BUCS National Semi-Final run, finishing the 2024 BUCS season with an exceptional bowling average of 5.14, including standout figures of 5-1-4-8.

His performances caught the attention of Leicestershire County Cricket Club, where he has been a regular presence in First XI training sessions. Whitehouse is now focused on breaking into the County’s 2nd XI this summer as he continues his push for higher honours in the UK.

Whitehouse is more than capable with the bat, comfortably batting at 8-9 for Loughborough MCCU during the 2024 season, adding depth to any lineup.

Now ready to test himself in overseas conditions, Whitehouse sees a season Down Under as the ideal opportunity to develop further and make a lasting impact on UK county cricket. A natural leader, he prides himself on driving those around him to improve, bringing a winning mentality to any club he joins.

No doubt an outstanding signing for any club looking to bolster their attack with a genuine quick.
