Cadell McMahon (18) is an exciting young wicketkeeper/batter from Tasmania, Australia.

Currently playing for the University of Tasmania Cricket Club in the Tasmanian Premier Competition, Cadell is regarded as one of the emerging young prospects in the region and is looking to earn a professional contract with Tasmania in the coming years.

A talented right-handed batter and wicketkeeper, Cadell has already gained valuable experience against high level opposition through the Northern Territory Strike side. He has featured in professional standard T20 cricket against the likes of Nepal and Bangladesh A, whilst also enjoying an excellent 2025/26 season, scoring 709 runs at an average of 30.83 with a top score of 124.

The youngster produced a standout performance in the Northern Territory Domestic Final, scoring a century and being named Player of the Final. His performances also earned him the opportunity to act as 12th man for the Tasmanian Sheffield Shield side against South Australia, providing valuable exposure to professional cricket.

Currently averaging around 40 in Tasmanian Premier Cricket, Cadell is continuing to develop his game and is expected to have a bright future within the Tasmanian pathway. He has also been selected to captain the Northern Territory U19 side at the National Underage Championships.

Due to his representative pathway status, Cadell is ineligible for the UK market but is available for the European season in 2027. Keen to gain valuable overseas experience, he would be an exciting addition to a European club looking for a talented young wicketkeeper/batter with experience against high level opposition.
