Cameron Melly is a hugely impressive, hard-hitting batting all-rounder from Ireland.

Cameron has recently been part of the Ireland Academy, with his performances earning selection for the North West Warriors in both List A and T20 formats, highlighting his progression into the professional game.

Earlier in his career, Melly was part of the Somerset County Cricket Club Academy and age-group system, where he excelled with the bat, averaging over 50 and consistently catching the attention of selectors. His composure under pressure and ability to deliver in key moments established him as a high-quality top-order batter.

He continued his development with the North West Warriors and went on to represent the Ireland Academy between the ages of 19 and 22, gaining valuable experience against strong opposition and further refining his game at a high level.

Cameron also attended Cardiff University, where he was part of the MCCU programme, competing within one of the UK's most competitive university cricket systems and continuing his development against elite emerging talent.

During the 2025/26 season, Melly represented Edinburgh Cricket Club in the Eastern Cricket Association. He scored just under 500 runs at an average of 30, with a standout innings of 98 off just 39 balls, showcasing his explosive power and ability to dominate attacks.

While he would have liked to have pushed on to even bigger numbers, Cameron made a significant impact off the field, fully immersing himself in the club environment by planning and leading coaching sessions for both senior and junior players.

Ahead of the 2026 UK season, Melly has joined Weston-super-Mare Cricket Club in the West of England Premier League, where he will take on a player-coach role within the club's senior setup.

Looking forward, Cameron is eager to return to Melbourne for the 2026/27 season, where he will be self-sufficient with accommodation, making him an attractive option for clubs.

With overseas experience now under his belt and a strong desire to produce a standout campaign, Melly is highly motivated to deliver big performances in the coming season.

A dynamic, high-impact top-order batter with professional pedigree and coaching experience, Cameron will be in high demand and represents an outstanding signing for any club seeking a hard-hitting batting all-rounder for the 2026/27 season.
