A right-arm off-spinner and dependable middle-to-lower order batter, he has amassed 700+ runs and taken 70+ wickets, cementing his reputation as a genuine all-rounder.

Lakshan's breakout came during the 2022/23 season, his most impactful campaign to date. In first-class cricket, he claimed 12 wickets at 24.41, while adding useful runs with the bat. He was equally impressive in white-ball formats, with 17 wickets at 20.47 in List A matches and a remarkable 7 wickets at just 7.71 in T20s—highlighting his effectiveness across conditions and formats.

A product of the renowned Devapathiraja College, Lakshan starred in Sri Lanka's All Island Schoolboy competitions, finishing his final school season with 645 runs and 79 wickets—a rare double that marked him as one to watch. He began his journey with the Sri Lanka Army SC U23s in 2014, before earning his senior call-up with Galle in 2017.

Despite his form and continued success, the 2022/23 season remains his most recent in domestic cricket. Now 28, Lakshan is eager to bring his experience, skill, and competitive edge to UK club cricket in the 2025 season, offering clubs a proven match-winner who can contribute in all departments.

Whether with the ball in hand or adding crucial lower-order runs, Chathura Lakshan is a well-rounded cricketer ready to make an impact abroad.
