Ethan Caisley is a top-order batsman currently representing Easingwold Cricket Club's first team.

A dependable presence at the top of the order, Ethan combines solid technique with a composed approach, allowing him to anchor innings and contribute consistently with the bat. During the most recent campaign, he played a key role in helping Easingwold secure a third-place finish, contributing several important scores as well as demonstrating sharp awareness and reliability in the field.

Earlier in his career, Ethan enjoyed notable success in the Yorkshire Taverners Final, where he delivered a match-winning performance. Scoring an impressive 86, he was awarded Player of the Match for his contribution, underlining his ability to step up on big occasions.

Ethan has also gained valuable experience beyond club cricket, representing Yorkshire Cricket College in the European T10 League in Jersey. Competing in a fast-paced, high-intensity format has further developed his adaptability and skill set, adding another dimension to his game.

The Englishman is now keen to head overseas with his club mate.
