Ethan Connolly (18) is a talented batting all-rounder from the North East of England.

The Englishman is an attacking right handed top order batter, and more than handy off spinner who plays for the famous Chester Le Street Cricket Club in the strong North East Premier League, and has recently broken into the 1st team.

Connolly has been part of the Durham County Cricket Club age group system for a number of years, and has played right up until 18s level. Last year at club level the batter scored 364 runs at 31 for the 2nd XI side, and after a strong pre season/winter is keen to lock down a place in the star studded 1st xi side.

The batter has also been working on his off spin, and keen to work on that this winter. He is also a keen and qualified coach.

No doubt a player thats on the path to becoming a very good cricketer.
