Grayson Oldridge, a 6ft 5in opening bowler from Leeds, England.

Oldridge plies his trade for Bradford Cricket League powerhouse New Farnley Cricket Club, where he has become a key performer in the Club's Second XI. Breaking into the First XI is a challenge given the strength of the side, but the Club regards him as a long-term prospect and a bowler who will play a significant role for years to come.

2025 has been a breakthrough season, with Grayson averaging 20.50 with the ball and pushing towards the 30-wicket mark with several games still to play. His natural height and action allow him to extract extra bounce, giving him a genuine point of difference with the new ball.

At just 18 years old, Grayson has already been clocked at 77-82mph, and with the physical foundations in place, he has ambitions to consistently reach the high 80s in the coming years. He sees a winter overseas as the ideal opportunity to accelerate this development, refine his skills, and challenge himself in foreign conditions.

No doubt a great late signing for any Club seeking a tall, promising opening bowler who will bring energy, commitment, and potential to their attack for the 2025/26 season.
