Innes Pierce is a leg-spin all-rounder from Bath, Somerset.

He currently represents Bath Cricket Club, featuring across the Second and Third XI in the Bristol & District Cricket Association.

In 2025, Pierce spent time in Zimbabwe, playing for The Rangers Cricket Club, where his exposure to overseas conditions significantly accelerated his development. Adapting quickly to unfamiliar surfaces and environments proved invaluable to his growth as a cricketer. During his time abroad, the young leg-spinner was invited to act as a net bowler for Zimbabwean cricket legend Brendan Taylor, alongside Dion Myers and Northamptonshire CCC's Alex Russell (video footage available).

In addition to his bowling, Innes is a capable middle-order batter who can provide valuable runs and effectively shift through the gears when required.

Away from the field, Pierce is a Level Two ECB-qualified coach and works with GECKO Cricket, a coaching company operating across large regions of the West of England. He is eager to play an active role within his chosen club's coaching setup, using his experience to support and develop players under his guidance.

Now keen to continue refining his craft and further develop as a leg-spinner, Innes would be an excellent acquisition for any club looking to add a genuine point of difference to their bowling attack, with the ability to produce big-turning leg breaks.
