Jack Collett is an impressive all-rounder from Cheshire, England.

The talented Englishman is a front line left arm quick, who bowls with good pace and can move the ball both ways, he is also a more than handy right handed middle order batter who can win a game with bat or ball.

The all-rounder is a product of the Cheshire County Cricket Club pathway system playing throughout the age groups right up until 18s level, and also the 2nd XI side. At club level Collett has impressed in the strong North Staffs and South Cheshire Cricket League for Sandbach Cricket Club in recent times, particularly last season where he took 42 wickets at 17 for the 1st XI with best figures of 5 for 26. The Pommie also scored nearly 500 across the summer with a high score of 97.

Collett is on the right path and isnt far away from a senior Cheshire CCC call up. He is now keen to test himself overseas this winter.

No doubt a proper pick up for next season.
