Jeanie Lee is an exciting young bowling all-rounder from Yorkshire, England, who has established herself as a genuine wicket-taking right-arm off-spinner with significant potential in the women's game.

A product of the Yorkshire Cricket pathway, Jeanie has consistently ranked among the leading wicket-takers since first representing Yorkshire Under-13 Girls in 2021. She has progressed through the age groups into the Yorkshire Women's Academy and Under-18 setup, before earning her Yorkshire Women's First XI Tier 2 debut in 2025.

A highly skilled off-spinner, Jeanie prides herself on her ability to generate turn while maintaining excellent control of her line and length. She complements her stock delivery with an impressive range of variations, allowing her to adapt to different batters, conditions, and match situations. Her numbers underline that wicket-taking ability, with an outstanding 307 recorded wickets at an average of just 14.85, including seven five-wicket hauls.

The 2025 season proved another standout campaign, with Jeanie finishing as the joint-leading wicket-taker in the Women's Academy competition. She also produced a superb 6/32 in the Under-18 Girls National County Knockout 50-over semi-final, further demonstrating her ability to deliver in high-pressure matches.

Jeanie has continued to excel throughout 2026, becoming the leading wicket-taker in the Yorkshire Women's Academy/Under-18 competition and claiming an impressive 65 wickets across her recorded season, including best figures of 5/35.

Her performances have already translated into senior women's cricket. On her progression into the Yorkshire Women's setup, Jeanie produced an excellent 2/11 against Worcestershire Women in the Vitality Blast Women's League 2, showcasing her ability to step up and compete at a higher level.

Alongside her primary skill with the ball, Jeanie is a capable right-handed middle-order batter, providing valuable depth and genuine all-round potential. Beyond the boundary rope, she also holds an ECB Level One coaching qualification and is keen to continue developing her coaching alongside her playing career.

Still only 18 years old, Jeanie has already built an outstanding résumé across pathway, academy, and senior women's cricket. Now eager to experience her first season overseas, she is looking to continue her development in the Southern Hemisphere and test her skills in a new cricketing environment.

A proven wicket-taker with 300+ career wickets, senior county experience, useful middle-order batting and significant scope for further development, Jeanie Lee would be an exciting addition to any club looking to strengthen its women's programme for the 2026/27 season.
