Johan van Dyk is a talented seam-bowling all-rounder currently playing for Free State in South African domestic cricket. Though his career has seen intermittent spells, van Dyk has become a consistent force in red-ball cricket, earning recognition with recent selections for both South Africa A and the Emerging Players sides.

A consistent wicket-taker, van Dyk has produced impressive returns across recent seasons, including 33 wickets at 19.75 (2023/24) and 15 wickets at 15.20 (2024/25). He now boasts 129 first-class wickets at a superb average of 19.75, including eight five-wicket hauls and two 10-wicket match performances—both achieved last summer. His standout displays include match figures of 10-70 (v Mpumalanga) and 10-123 (v Limpopo).

With the bat, he's a gritty lower-order contributor, holding a first-class best of 58 and having impressed with a hard-fought 41 off 159 balls for South Africa A against India A in December 2023.

Van Dyk's journey began through the Free State age-group system, starring at Coke Week before shining in University-level cricket and representing South Africa Emerging as far back as 2014. He enjoyed a strong UK season in 2019 with Thame Town in the Home Counties Premier League (35 wickets at 17.74) and is now keen to return for a UK club stint in 2026. A proven red-ball performer and valuable all-round option, he's a standout prospect for any side next summer.
