Josh Thomas is a fantastic quick bowling prospect playing for the Windward Islands Volcanoes in the West Indies Regional 4-Day first-class competition.

The talented youngster, who comes recommended by former Windies tweaker, and Volcanoes team-mate, Shane Shillingford, is currently into his fourth domestic season.

He has impressed to date, having taken 46 wickets at 31.13 in 16 first-class matches with best figures of 4-44 against Jamaica to include international scalps of Assad Fudadin and Rovman Powell (not to mention John Campbell and Jermaine Blackwell in the first innings).

Thomas, who plays alongside Windies stars Sunil Ambris, Kirk Edwards, Andre Fletcher, Sherman Lewis, Devon Smith, and Shillingford, broke into the Windward Islands set-up following outstanding performances for Grenada. He was rewarded a first-class debut in December 2018 and hasn't looked back.

During his maiden season, he finished top of the Volcanoes seam-bowling wicket-charts taking 28 poles at 27.35. He has cemented his spot and is now eager to push for Windies A selection.

The talented quick, who is also known for his hard-hitting lower-order batting, is a prospect for the future and is seeking a UK club for the 2024 season*.
