Kelsey Adams is a middle order batter who currently represents Western Province Cobras, having played all of her professional cricket with the team over the past seven years. Her progress through the ranks was built on a strong representative foundation: she represented Western Province at CSA National Youth Weeks for six consecutive years, from the age of 11 through to 17, and has captained the various clubs she has played for along the way.

In List A cricket for Western Province, Kelsey has scored 508 runs at an average of 18.81, including a half-century, with a highest score of 61. She has shown similar consistency in the shorter format, with 421 T20 runs at an average of 23.38 and a highest score of 63, also bringing up a half-century in that format along the way.

At provincial level, Kelsey has been part of a hugely successful Western Province side in recent seasons. The team claimed the Hollywoodbets Pro20 title in 2024/25, the competition's inaugural season, before going one better in 2025/26, winning both the Hollywoodbets Pro20 and Pro50 titles to complete the double and cement Western Province's position among the strongest sides in South African domestic women's cricket.
