Logan Bowden is an emerging wicket-keeping batsman currently representing Gloucestershire County Cricket Club 2nd XI and Academy sides, alongside club cricket for Thornbury Cricket Club.

A balanced and technically accomplished opening batsman, Bowden is comfortable batting anywhere in the top order, combining composure with an attacking mindset and strong game awareness.

Recognised as one of Gloucestershire’s brightest young prospects, Bowden scored a century for Gloucestershire 2nd XI at just 17 years old – a significant milestone in his development. His consistency and impact across youth cricket earned him Overall Pathway Player of the Year honours in 2023 and 2024 highlighting his continued progression and dedication to the game.

In 2025, Bowden also played a key role in reaching the National Schools T20 Final, further establishing himself as a player capable of performing on major stages. Behind the stumps, his wicket-keeping adds another valuable dimension to his game, making him a versatile asset in all formats. Also in 2025, off the back of strong performances for Gloucestershire earned a spot in the ECB South West team for the Super 4’s competition held at Loughborough.

With ambitions of becoming a professional cricketer for Gloucestershire County Cricket Club, Logan Bowden continues to develop as one of the county’s most promising young talents.
