Lucas Innis (18), a young all-rounder from Norwich, England.

Innis hones his craft at club level for Old Buckenham Cricket Club in the Norfolk Alliance Premier Division, where he has become a pivotal asset both on and off the pitch. A well-rounded 2024 season saw Lucas amass over 400 runs at an average of 25 at the top of the order while also claiming 18 wickets with his medium pace.

Outside of club cricket, Lucas attended the prestigious Norwich School, where he excelled at schoolboy level, earning his full colours.

An injury-hit 2022 sidelined Lucas for the entire season, but he used this period to refine his batting, which has since become a key strength. Fully recovered, he has returned to top form at both club and schoolboy level, further enhancing his reputation as a three-dimensional cricketer.

Now finishing his studies, Lucas is eager to experience cricket in the Southern Hemisphere to develop his game and push for higher honours.

A fantastic addition for any club seeking a young, ambitious prospect ready to contribute both on and off the field.
