Mehran Mumtaz is one of Pakistan's brightest young cricketing talents.

A quality left-arm spinner and aggressive middle-order batter, he possesses the skills and temperament to become a prominent figure in the game for years to come. Since being selected for Pakistan's Under-19 World Cup squad in 2022, shortly after making his first-class debut for Northern in the 2021/22 season, Mehran has continued to progress impressively. He has starred in the Pakistan Super League for Peshawar Zalmi under the captaincy of Babar Azam and delivered notable performances on the domestic circuit – including a maiden first-class century for Sialkot against Faisalabad in October 2026.

At the time of writing, Mehran has taken 73 first-class wickets, including three five-wicket hauls, and continues to develop as a consistent match-winner with both bat and ball. A reliable operator in white-ball formats as well, his versatility across all three formats makes him an invaluable asset to any side.

Rewarded with selection for the Pakistan Shaheens in 2025, Mehran is widely regarded as an international cricketer in the making.

For clubs seeking a talented left-arm spinner, aggressive batter, and genuine future star, Mehran Mumtaz represents one of the finest options available for 2026.
