Richard Seletswane announced himself in 2022 as a teenage prodigy, starring for South Africa U19s in their run to the CSA Division 2 T20 Cup final. His performances earned him 14 U19 caps and a place in the squad for the 2024 ICC U19 World Cup. The following year, he shone for the SA Emerging side in the CSA Provincial One Day Challenge, piling on 253 runs at 50.60 – second only to Lhuan-dre Pretorius.

While senior opportunities have so far been limited to four List A appearances for Gauteng, Seletswane’s talent and hunger are undeniable. A gifted stroke-maker with the temperament for higher honours, he has his sights set on breaking into South Africa’s domestic elite, targeting both the SA20 and national selection. For 2026, he is eager to test himself in the UK, offering clubs a high-upside young batter with proven pedigree on the international youth stage.

A player with a bright future, Richard is now set for his debut UK season after signing with Bovey Tracey CC for their Devon Cricket League campaign.
