Salman Khan is an emerging professional who has made an impressive start to his first class career.

A stylish top order batter and competent off spinner, Salman is starting to make a name for himself in Pakistan.

Representing FATA Region in the Quaid-E-Azam trophy, Salman currently has a healthy average of 35.57 and has x1 century and x3 half centuries to his name from the 11 games he has played to date. Since making his debut in 2023, he has become a team regular and has earned selection through consistency of performance.

Earlier in his career as a fresh faced young talent, he was selected for Pakistan Shaheens and featured in a 50 over game against Sri Lanka, considering he had not played first class cricket at this point (2021), it is a clear sign of the talent Salman has. Selection amongst Pakistan crickets best players was also a sharp learning curve for the young man who featured alongside Salman Agha, Saud Shakeel and Naseem Shah to name a few.

Salman is now keen to expand his cricketing horizons and is targeting a season overseas where he is keen to add value both on and off the pitch. He is a competent off spinner also who would be an excellent all round option for any club in 2025. He is a player who has a very high ceiling and would be a gem of an option as an overseas professional.
