Sheran Fonseka is a rising star in Sri Lankan cricket — an elegant top-order batter and wicketkeeper who also offers useful off-spin, making him a genuine all-rounder in the club cricket environment.

After dominating at junior level, Sheran is now establishing himself at the highest level of domestic cricket. He represents Colombo Colts Cricket Club across all formats under the leadership of Sri Lankan international Dhananjaya Lakshan and was part of the side that clinched the 2023 T20 Championship — a significant achievement at just 23 years old.

A proud alumnus of the prestigious St. Joseph's College in Colombo — the same school that produced Sri Lankan legend Chaminda Vaas — Sheran is highly regarded as a future prospect. Vaas himself has endorsed him as an ideal candidate for an overseas professional, citing both his skill and attitude.

In x2 UK season with Denby CC, he has been exceptional, with over 1000 runs each year. Domestically, he has already featured in 12 First-Class and 25 List A matches.

Sheran combines natural talent with a grounded personality. Humble, hardworking, and highly driven, he is not only a gifted cricketer but also a model clubman — a true asset to any team on and off the field.
