Sukhjit Singh, or “Sunny”, as he’s affectionately known, is a left-arm spinner and handy lower-order batter who has excelled in club cricket for over a decade.

The left-arm tweaker comes with quite the pedigree. Sunny made his Championship debut for Warwickshire in May 2017, and in doing so became the first cricketer to have graduated to that level having come through the Chance to Shine programme.

Sunny moved to England from Punjab, in northern India, as a 10-year-old. At the time he spoke no English and struggled to integrate or progress at school. But the visit of Eaton Gordon, a Warwickshire Cricket Board coach, changed his life and offered a pathway into the professional sport.

Eaton noted Sunny’s talent and enthusiasm and encouraged him to join his own club side, Handsworth CC. From there, he was encouraged to attend trials at Warwickshire and he was selected at U16 level and then taken into the club’s academy. From there, he made his 2nd XI debut in 2014 and was sent to the Darren Lehman Academy in Adelaide on the recommendation of England spin coach, Peter Such. He impressed Ashley Giles, Warwickshire’s Director of Cricket at the time, in the nets ahead of the 2017 season and, as a result, jumped ahead of the likes of Josh Poysden in the battle for selection.

Sunny made his first-class debut against Oxford MCCU in April 2017. With Jeetan Patel assured of his place as the club's first-choice spinner, opportunities were limited. But Singh took a maiden five-for against Hampshire and followed it with another against Somerset. As a result, his contract was extended until the end of the 2018 season. However, due to limited appearances, Sunny was released from contract and hasn't featured at County level since.

At club level, Sunny starred for Birmingham League outfit Smethwick, taking 177 wickets at 21.31 alongside 1262 runs at 15.20 from the lower-middle order. Whilst known predominantly for his left-arm tweak, Sunny has produced valuable runs in recent years for Smethwick, to include a strong 2018 season comprising 360 runs at 30, to include an incredible 107* (82 balls) from number 8 against Premier Division side Kenilworth Wardens.

The Birmingham-based embarked on new club opportunities over the past two seasons - initially for New Brighton, bagging 53 wickets at 18.51, with 3 five wicket hauls in the top tier of the Liverpool and District Cricket Competition. Last summer, the trend continued for J & G Meakins for the North Staffs and South Cheshire League.

For 2025, Sunny is playing in the Shropshire League for St George's where he is eager to dominate yet again.
