Todd Wilcox (27) is a hugely talented and experienced seam bowling all-rounder from Cardiff, Wales.

Wilcox is a front line quick, who bowls with good pace and control and is also talented right handed middle order batter. Wilcox currently represents the Wales National side in the NCCA (Minor County), and has played a handful of games for Glamorgan County Cricket Club 2nd XI.

The all-rounder plays his club cricket in the South Wales Premier League for hometown club Pentyrch Cricket Club, where he has been 1st XI captain since the age of 19. To date the impressive Wilcox has taken 274 wickets for the 1st XI at 19 since his debut, and is also approaching 5000 runs at 29 with the bat, which includes 5 hundreds.

The Welshman is no doubt one of the most impressive all-rounders outside of Professional cricket, he is also a keen and qualified coach, so happy to be part of a clubs coaching structure when overseas. He also spent a season with Gold Coast Dolphins in Queensland Premier Cricket at the age of 18 as a fresh faced 18 year old, where he played in the 2nd Grade side.

Wilcox will now be heading down under this winter having signed for Epping Bulls Cricket Club in the 2024/25 Sydney Shires Competition.
