Vimbai Mary Mutungwindu is an emerging wicketkeeper-batter representing the Mashonaland Eagles Women and is regarded as one of Zimbabwe's promising young talents. She has also been part of the Zimbabwe Women travelling squad, most recently featuring on the tour of Ireland, highlighting her growing presence within the national setup.

Since making her List A debut on 23 February 2022, Vimbai has featured in 39 matches across formats, gaining valuable domestic experience. She has also represented Zimbabwe on the global stage, competing at the ICC Under-19 Women's World Cup in South Africa in 2023, where she played four matches and continued her development against top international peers.

Known for her sharp wicketkeeping skills and growing confidence as a batter, Vimbai has contributed consistently behind the stumps, recording multiple catches and stumpings across formats. While her batting numbers are still developing, she continues to work on building strong fundamentals and match awareness at domestic level.

Eager to accelerate her growth, Vimbai is now seeking opportunities to play overseas, where she aims to gain hands-on experience in different conditions while continuing to push toward her senior international debut. With dedication and exposure, she remains focused on earning her Zimbabwe Women cap and establishing herself at the highest level of the game.
