Vincent Masekesa is a rising star in Zimbabwean cricket—an accomplished leg-spinner, gritty lower-order batter, and standout fielder with a story rooted in perseverance and progress. From his early days in Manicaland’s age-group system to becoming vice-captain of the Mountaineers, and then making his Zimbabwean Test debut - Masekesa’s career has steadily gained momentum.

He made an immediate impact with a four-wicket haul on List A debut and has since built a strong domestic record, including a brilliant 7/117 in first-class cricket. A genuine all-round asset, he averages over 23 with the bat in List A cricket and has a first-class best of 44. His fielding is another standout—among the sharpest in the country, regularly fielding in key positions like point, cover, and gully.

A natural leader, Masekesa helped steer the Mountaineers to the 2024 Logan Cup title, following their 2022 List A triumph. His influence on and off the field continues to grow.

In 2025, he made a memorable Test debut during Zimbabwe’s tour of Bangladesh, taking 5/115 in the second Test—including the key wicket of centurion Mehidy Hasan Miraz (104). It was a performance that signalled his readiness for the international stage.

With a proven domestic track record, international success, and leadership experience, Masekesa is now seeking global opportunities as he continues his upward trajectory. A committed, multi-skilled cricketer with plenty to offer, he's a name to watch.
