Wallace Tapiwanashe Mubayiwa is a highly dedicated and versatile cricketer who bowls left arm spin and can contribute runs from the middle to lower order.

His journey from playing at age 12 to representing Zimbabwe at various levels, including the Under-19 team, speaks to his commitment and skill. He made his List A debut in 2022 for Midwest Rhinos and then his First Class debut in 2023/2024, showing his rise through the ranks.

Representing Zimbabwe at the All Africa Games and winning a gold medal is a huge achievement, and his experience touring with Zimbabwe A to the UK further adds to his cricketing resume. The fact that he completed the ECB Core Coach qualification shows that he's also thinking about his future beyond just playing, and he seems eager to pass on his knowledge to junior cricketers. This is something he is keen to get involved with during his time overseas in club cricket.

His all-round skills as both a bowler and a batter make him a valuable asset to any team, and he'd be a great player-coach choice, fully dedicated to both his own development and that of others in the club. He has the ultimate ambition of representing his country and seems on course to do just that after playing for the national under 19s and national "A" team. For now however he seeks a maiden club cricket stint in the UK and would be a pleasure to host this summer.
