Will Clark is one of New Zealand's brightest prospects. An explosive top-order batter, and brisk seam bowler, Clark starred for Central Districts age group level, represented New Zealand U19s in 7 ODIs, and is now involved with the CD Stags in domestic cricket.

Such is Clark's all-round talent, he joined an elite group of cricketers when opening both batting and bowling for CD in only his second Plunket Shield (first-class) match against Northern Districts.

He has since become a stand-out performer for the Stags, in side that regularly features NZ internationals including Ajaz Patel, Will Young, Blair Tickner, with batting and bowling averages of 35.76 & 34.05 (FC), 34.30 & 38.77 (List A), and 24.84 & 19.50 (T20).

Clark is an exciting talent, one who has been earmarked for international honours since his mid-teens. He starred for CD at both the U17 and U19 tournaments, culminating with NZ U19 selection. He has then excelled for Hawkes Bay, with scores of 201 and 120 in recent seasons. Clark has been a key figure for CD 'A' too, with notable scores of 120* and 97 to earn a Stags call-up.

The batting all-rounder also enjoyed a stand-out season in the Netherlands in 2023-24. Playing for Sparta 1888 in the Dutch Topklasse competition, he impressed with both bat and ball.

Clark has a big future who is seeking County opportunities in the UK this summer, and will play his club cricket in Kent for Bromley Common.
