Zain Ul Abidin is a gifted spin-bowling all-rounder currently representing Saudi Arabia on the international stage. A frontline left-arm spinner and dependable middle-order batter, he has become a key figure in the national side over the past few years.

Zain made his T20 International debut in October 2021, making an immediate impact with a tidy spell of 1 for 18 from his four overs, helping Saudi Arabia to a comfortable win over the Maldives. Since then, he has continued to demonstrate his value in both disciplines. In a recent outing against the UAE, he showcased his power-hitting prowess, blasting 19 runs from just 9 deliveries in a spirited attempt to chase down a target of 162. Although the team fell short, his explosive cameo underscored his capabilities with the bat.

Across all formats at the international level, Zain has claimed 53 wickets at an impressive average of 18.83. His standout performance came against Bhutan, where he returned extraordinary figures of 5 for 6 in a dominant 166-run victory. Known for his control and consistency, he is a miserly operator in T20Is, often conceding no more than 5 or 6 runs per over.

Eager to broaden his horizons, Zain is now seeking professional opportunities overseas and has set his sights on a season in Europe in 2026. With his versatile skill set and international experience, he offers a compelling package for any club looking to strengthen their squad with a proven all-rounder.
